BRIDGE PARTY FOR VISITOR.

Mrs. W. E. Tolles was hostess Tuesday afternoon at a charming bridge party honoring Miss Eileen Session of Sioux Falls, S. D., a guest at the Tolles home in Moline. The company, comprising Moline and Rock Island friends was seated at six tables, the guests finding their places by pretty flower bedecked cards pivoting at each table. Favors that had all the appearance of being dainty corsage bouquets of violets, sweet peas and yellow rosebuds developed into clever flower fans when the combination was learned. The fortunate winners of high score were, the Misses Marie and Jennie Hull, Harriet and Clara Cooper and Julia Wood, all of Moline, and Maud Hart of this city. During the afternoon a cooling fruit drink was served and following the games guests were invited to the dining room where delicious refreshments were served buffet style. Miss Helen Loosley and Miss Harriet Cooper poured at the table which was dainty in its appointments, with the central decoration a gilded basket filled with pink sweet peas and a large bow of pink chiffon adorning the handle. Beautiful garden flowers, California poppies, hollyhocks, sweet peas and nasturtiums brightened other rooms in the home. The company, which included many recent brides and a number of brides-to-be, also numbered among the other guests from out of town besides the honoree, Mrs. Gus Walsh of Denver, the guest of Miss Edith Swan, and Miss Sage of Keokuk, Ia., who is visiting Miss Adelle Foster.

TO BE LONDON'S MOST LAVISH ENTERTAINER

Mrs. William B. Leeds.

London, England, June 25.—Renouncing America, Mrs. William B. Leeds, widow of the American "tin plate king," has taken up her permanent residence in England. Her Grosvenor square town house is being gotten in readiness for the most lavish entertainments which this city has witnessed. She has the money to climb the social heights, for Leeds left a fortune of $14,000,000.

Mrs. Leeds is one of the most ambitious American women in London, and it is said that she will never be happy until she wears a coronet. She has already had several opportunities, but is looking for something better. Among the matrimonial chances that have presented themselves since Leeds died six years ago are:

Prince Murat.
Prince de Fancigny-Lucinge.
Lord Falconer, heir of the Earl of Kinmore.
Lord Alexander Thynne, uncle of the Marquis of Bath.

Sir Abe Bailey, South African millionaire.
James DeWolf Cutting.
Count Helie de Talleyrand-Perigord.
Lords and earls flock around Mrs. Leeds, and it is not unlikely that before another year has passed she will have picked out one.

Mrs. Leeds' life story is romantic. Born in Zanesville, Ohio, 36 years ago, she is the daughter of W. C. Stewart, formerly of Cleveland. When she married George E. Worthington of the latter city some years ago it was thought that the marriage was well planned.

Soon, however, she tired of him and secured a divorce. In Paris two years later she met Mr. Leeds, who immediately became infatuated with her. Unfortunately for his plans he was already married, though he and his wife had drifted apart. However, this difficulty was overcome by the payment, it was said at the time, of $1,000,000 to the first Mrs. Leeds.

Leeds, who had risen from nothing to a multimillionaire, was an old man at 40. It was at this age that he died. In June, 1908, he had lived with his second wife only about four years, but he left her the bulk of his fortune.

Mrs. Leeds has one son, "Junior" Leeds, 10 years old. She says it is for his sake that she has renounced America, as she wants to make of him an English gentleman.

Hall during the marriage service and immediately following the ceremony Miss Hall sang "The Life Road," by Lantle.

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) Is it right for a girl to go home from a dance with another fellow when she came with her brother and a girl friend?

(2) Is it right to go with a fellow who asks you the first time he meets you?

(3) Is it right to let your girl friend read your letters from boy friends?

(4) I am 15 years old. Am I too young to go to dances with my girl friend and my brothers? My mother does not care, but my father objects.

(5) Is it right for a boy to watch a girl powder her face or lace her shoes?

(6) Is it right for a girl to bite from a boy's apple or piece of cake?

QUESTION BOX.

(1) If her parents trusted her to go with her brother she should return home with him, unless her brother is older and knows that the other fellow is the sort of man he can trust to take proper care of his sister.

(2) Do you mean to go with him as a "steady"? If so, I'm afraid he is too hasty to be trusted. Tell him you are too young to have a "steady".

(3) I don't think it is quite steady to the boys, do you? Talk over their letters with your mother, but keep them as private property from your girl friends. How would you like a boy to show your letters to his boy friends?

(4) It depends upon the kind of dances. I do not think public dances are good for a girl, my dear. You are apt to meet the wrong kind of people there.

(5) She should do these things in private.

(6) I see no particular harm in it, though it would be nice to cut off a slice of apple or break off a little piece of cake, than to bite into either.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I have been keeping company with a girl for over two years. I love her dearly and she says she loves me also. We are both 18. Are we old enough to know what love is?

(2) Is three times a week too often to visit the same girl?

F. F.

(1) The fact that you have stuck to the same girl for two years proves you to be constant, and perhaps you have really found the girl you can love all your life. However, I doubt if you are in a position to marry now, and it would be wiser to let the girl be free in case some other man loves her and can provide a good home for her—she might like him better than you. I do not think a boy of 18, as a rule, understands what man-and-woman love really is, nor how to take care of a wife. A girl of that age is a little more advanced in her feelings, but even she is usually too much of a girl to make a good wife at that age.

(2) Aren't you a little afraid she might get tired of seeing you so often? However, if you are very congenial, it may be all right. Only don't hog all her time and give her something in return for it.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young lady of 22. Am engaged to a young man of same age. When he is around me he is very nice to me and takes me every place and gives me lots of presents.

He is now away and doesn't write to me very often, and he always excuses himself by not having time. Of course he is working. When he went away he promised faithfully to write often.

He has only written three letters to me in five weeks, besides the cards he has sent, and he always says he dearly loves me.

WORRIED.

I haven't any doubt but that he loves you, my dear, even though he is a poor letter writer. Most men dislike to write letters, and since you know he is busy, don't worry about his not writing often. He is probably hustling to make a home for you. Write him nice letters, but not too often. It might be a good idea to tell him that you'll only write to him in answer to his letters. Maybe that will make him sit up and take notice.

SAGE TEA BEAUTIFULLY DARKENS THE HAIR WHEN FADED AND GRAY

Mixed With Sulphur It Makes Hair Soft, Lustrous and Cures Dandruff.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any drug store for the ready-to-use product—called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy"—you will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own, which is usually too sticky, so insist upon getting "Wyeth's," which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says his customers insist on Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because, they say, it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. Do this at night and by morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.—(Adv.)

AT ONCE! CLOGGED NOSTRILS OPEN, HEAD COLDS AND CATARRH VANISH

Breathe Freely! Clears Stuffed-up, Inflamed Nose and Head and Stops Catarrhal Discharge. Cures Dull Headache.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing; soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear. Harper House Pharmacy.—(Adv.)
